

Newsletter – December 2021

Welcome to my December Newsletter

Thank you to those that have subscribed through my website to have the Newsletters emailed directly to them when they are released.

See You Next Year

I am just sneaking this one before 2021 ends. This Newsletter is more well wishes than news, but that seems appropriate at the end of what has been a long and at times challenging year.

December has been busy with 'life stuff' and fitting creative activity around the busyness has been challenging. However, I have continued to create miniature paper garments using botanically printed papers as the core material and inspiration. These have been so well received in exhibiting spaces and online that I will be continuing with this creative process in the New Year. And later in the year I will be running a two-day workshop at Princes Hill Community Centre and sharing the processes and joy that go into these creations.

There are some big changes afoot and I am eager to see how new opportunities unfold and my artistic community expands. But that is all for next year. I will keep you posted in Newsletters and on my website of the new developments as they happen.

Like the name and text of one of my recent paper garments, 'Hope Springs...' I hope for you a peaceful and joyful festive season, less challenges for us all than we have experienced in 2021 and an abundantly creative 2022.

Happy creating,

Anzara
